TREX Art Exhibit “Into the Badlands” at the Library from Sep. 5-25, 2017 Have you seen it yet? Limited time left.

Into the Badlands is a touring art exhibition at the library and features works of art from the Badlands Gallery focusing on the enchanting landscape within the region. Artists each communicate their unique experience of small-town living along the Red Deer River valley through the twenty-one works. Farming, super moons, ghost finders, storms and water towers are just some of the subjects explored. The seven participating artists include Jim Carlson, Dianne Faulter, Bob Hamilton, Carrie Mashon, Ellen Nobel, Janice Russell, and Lindsey Stead.

Tales and Tunes Preschool Story-time

Wednesday, September 27, 2017 at 10 am in the Library. We are trying something new and different and we will meet the second and fourth Wednesday of each month.

Bring your preschooler ages 0-6 years and come enjoy stories, songs, rhymes to develop a joy of reading. This program begins at 10 am focusing on baby and toddler activities, but all are welcome to stay for the next Preschooler program at 10:30 am too. You and your child can decide what works best for you for participation. Great fun for everyone! Children must be accompanied by an adult as they will be interacting during program.

Fall Nature Photo Scavenger Hunt from September 26-November 28,

2017. The Library is sponsoring a family fun outdoor event over the next few months while we enjoy this gorgeous Fall season. The idea is to download the scavenger hunt list from the library website and snap photos with your family creating a wonderful collection perfect for a photo book. Submit your photos to leah.hunter@plrd.ab.ca to be entered to win the chance to have your photos turned into a beautiful photo book preserving all your Fall Fun. Deadline to enter is November 28, 2017 and winner will be announced on November 30. Good luck, be creative, and fun!

Note: Delia Library will be closed all Fridays in September.
